

Doesn't the U.S. Federal Government have more important things to do than interfere with State Government? The Federal "Do Not Call List" should be as stringent as New Jersey's. Enough is enough!

People do not want to be disturbed at home by annoying phone calls. I'm already paying $5 per month to have Call Intercept monitor phone calls; The $60 per year is so unnecessary, yet this is the price I'm willing to pay so that I'm not bothered by someone who is more often than not "scamming", i.e., preying on the elderly and misinformed.

The government claims that it wants to address identity theft; well, eliminating unwanted telemarketing calls will greatly reduce that.
